Explanatory Notes

2018 NQS changes	The 2018 National Quality Standard (NQS) commenced 1 February 2018. The number of standards has been reduced from 18 to 15 and the standards have been renumbered. Further details can be found here: https://www.acecqa.gov.au/latest-news/2018-nqs-commences
SEIFA	ACECQA uses the Australian Bureau of Statistics' Socio-Economic Index of Advantages and Disadvantages (SEIFA) to classify the socio-economic status of the area in which a service is located. SEIFA is a product that ranks areas according to socio-economic status. The ranking is based on a number of variables, including household income, education, employment, and other indicators of advantage and disadvantage. ACECQA uses the address details of a service to identify the applicable SEIFA classification. Services located in remote or very remote areas are excluded from SEIFA classifications by ACECQA because the Centre-based services are also excluded from SEIFA classification. More information about SEIFA is available at: http://www.abs.gov.au/websitedbs/censushome.nsf/home/seifa
ARIA+	ACECQA uses the Australian Bureau of Statistics' Remoteness Area (ARIA+) to classify the remoteness of centre-based services. The Remoteness Structure classifies areas based on road distance from the nearest urban centre. ACECQA uses the address details of a service to identify the applicable ARIA+ classification. Some services are excluded from remoteness classifications by ACECQA because of their location. Some Centre-based services are also excluded from remoteness classifications because they do not have a valid address matching. More information about ARIA+ is available at: http://www.abs.gov.au/websitedbs/D3310114.nsf/home/remoteness
Provider Management Type	ACECQA uses the Management Type classifications in the Australian Education and Care Collection to identify the legal or social entity that provides the childhood education and care service. Reporting by services on provider management type is not mandatory.

	Reporting by services on provider management type is not mandatory. More information about the Management Type classifications is available at http://www.abs.gov.au/ausstats/abs@.nsf/Lookup/EDCEFD2FC57
Service sub-type	NQA ITS data collected on service sub-type is self-reported by providers. Providers may choose multiple service sub-types. For example, a provider may provide long day care, school hours care, or one providing both long day care and preschool. Providers are not required to notify changes to this information, though they are encouraged to do so. Centre-based services offering more than one type of service are classified as long day care in addition to any other service type. Services which provide outside school hours care are classified as preschool/kindergarten services as well as outside school hours care services; services which provide outside school hours care services are classified as long day care services. Excludes preschool/kindergarten operating in Tasmania and Western Australia and other services that are not regulated under the National Law.
Family day care	A family day care service is an education and care service delivered in private residences and other approved venues. They are sometimes known as out-of-home care and are administered and supported by central coordination units.
